Recovered Paper Specialists

About us...

Successive legislation on environmental protection, waste disposal, packaging waste and land-fill has placed greater demands on organisations in the public and private sectors to embrace responsible environmental policies. The recycling of paper products plays a pivotal role in this process and demands the specialised, dedicated services and attention to detail for which Riverdale Recycling is renowned.

Part of the Riverdale Paper plc group, Riverdale Recycling provides the skills, experience, knowledge and resources essential for the efficient collection, and ultimate recycling, of your paper waste.

Our wide range of collection systems, combined with a fleet of dedicated vehicles and trained personnel enables us to provide solutions which are precisely tailored to your needs and fit perfectly with your organisation's environmental policy.

From initial consultation and advice, supply of compaction equipment and appropriate receptacles, and scheduling of vehicle collections, our expertise and commitment to customer satisfaction ensures that your paper waste is dealt with in a manner which complies with all current regulations to give you total peace of mind.

Riverdale Recycling has over 30 years' experience in providing paper recycling services to a wide variety of satisfied customers, including high street supermarket chains, newspaper publishers, trade printers, local authorities and commercial organisations. In this time we have developed systems and procedures to suit all requirements, however large or small.

Investment in modern recycling plant, coupled with continual appraisal of market trends, as well as national and international regulations and methods provides us with the resources to process all types of recovered paper, from cardboard packaging to office stationery and high quality print stock.

Regardless of your recycling needs, when you choose Riverdale Recycling you are assured of a professional approach focussed on customer satisfaction and environmental responsibility.
